DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1a. Claims 12-23 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to claims 1, 8, and 11, the method claim limitations do not have any positive steps.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 1, 8, and 11 recite the broad recitation "into tubes", and the claim also recites "especially thin walled tube with a tube diameter to a material thickness ratio equal to or greater than 65", which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

As to claim 2, the term "but preferably" is also indefinite, since a narrow limitation is followed by a broad limitation.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,495,792. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the pinching tools and pressing tool in the present application is obvious, since U.S Patent No. '792 had already disclosed having rollers or forming pieces to accommodate in the changing of the tube's diameter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 8, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hellman, Sr. (US 4,995,549).

Hellman, Sr. discloses the method of welding thin wall tubes having a tube diameter to material thickness ratio equal to or greater than 65 (col. 1, lines 40-42). The tube to be welded by laser and rollers (70-73) are individually susceptible to power assisted adjustment essentially towards or away from the longitudinal axis of the tube round so as to bring the longitudinal edges of the tube round with each other.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hellman, Sr. (US 4,995,549) as applied to claims 1-11 above, and further in view of Kato et al (US 4,299,108).

Hellman, Sr. discloses the claimed invention above in paragraph 5, but fails to teach the welding devices having a pinching tool and a dressing tool.

However, Kato et al discloses a plurality of dressing tool/roller rings (72, 74, 76) and pinching tools (75,77), wherein the dressing tool dips into the tube round and forms at least one contact plane for at least one of the edges. The dressing tool is coupled with the motion of at least one of the pinching tools. The pinching tools are adjustable in relation to one another (figures). Kato et al discloses the above differences for the purpose of coping with the changes in the pipe diameter with ease.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide dressing tools along with pinching tools as taught by Kato et al, in Hellman, Sr. in order to cope with the changes in the tube's diameter with ease.
